

A

To the Members of the County Executive Committee,

In this moment of profound sorrow and national mourning, we find ourselves grappling with the loss of a courageous leader, Charlie Kirk—a man whose voice, vision, and unwavering commitment to truth inspired millions and helped shape the future of our movement.

Charlie's assassination was not just an attack on a man—it was an attack on the values he stood for: liberty, faith, family, and the enduring promise of America. His life was a testament to the power of conviction, and his death a sobering reminder of the cost of standing boldly for what is right.

But we must not let grief paralyze us. Instead, we must let it galvanize us. The Party sent a press release out within 32 hours; the ACTT and candidate Jay Furman organized a Trump Train in his honor. The UTSA Turning Point USA Chapter held a vigil where more than 2,000 people were in attendance. (The party distributed more than 400 candles to the participants.)

Let us honor Charlie not with silence, but with action. Let us carry forward his mission with renewed purpose—organizing, educating, and mobilizing with the same fearless energy he brought to every stage, every campus, and every conversation. Let us be the torchbearers of his legacy, lighting the way for the next generation of patriots.

We are the Republican Party of Bexar County. We are not defined by tragedy—we are defined by our response to it. Now is the time to stand united, focused, and resolute. Let Charlie's memory be the fuel that drives us to work harder, speak louder, and fight smarter.

In his honor, we press on.

With strength and solidarity,
Kris Coons

Honoring the Life and Contributions of Charlie Kirk

Charles James Kirk, known as Charlie Kirk, went home to be with his Lord and Savior on September 10, 2025. He was on the campus of Utah Valley University in Orem, Utah, on the "American Comeback Tour" with his organization, Turning Point, USA. Charlie was in front of thousands of people who had come to hear him, debating with students in his famous "Prove Me Wrong" segment, when a sniper cut his life short. As Robert F. Kennedy Jr. said, "A bullet has silenced the most eloquent truth teller of an era." Charlie was 31 years old and leaves behind a wife, Erika, and a very young daughter and baby son who will grow up without their father.

Charlie Kirk started Turning Point, USA when he was only eighteen years old with a vision to engage high school and college students with the purpose of countering the outsized progressive, liberal, pro-socialist, anti-American bias on campuses nation-wide. He was undaunted and undeterred by hostile crowds on campuses where he was jeered, shouted down, outnumbered, and often cancelled by school administrations. He calmly and rationally debated any challengers, discrediting and disproving liberal claims, persuading students of the merits of conservatism via an open exchange of ideas. He would boldly proclaim his faith everywhere he went, and was a highly effective apologist for Christian beliefs. He did all this with joy and aplomb.

Charlie made free market capitalism, school choice, Israel, Christian faith, Life, American exceptionalism, and other conservative causes COOL for teenagers to take up, and he gave them the confidence and organization to boldly take stands where they never would before. His dynamic and energizing rallies and conventions made rock stars out of conservative leaders. His organization set out to "Identify – Empower – Organize" students. Turning Point USA was able to make inroads even here on San Antonio's decidedly liberal-leaning college campuses, establishing multiple chapters which gave local students a conservative outlet. He provided local campus chapters with on-point recruiting materials such as stickers and posters with slogans such as, "American Socialist is an Oxymoron" and "Kiss Me I'm a Capitalist." His hashtag #BIGGOVsucks has been used more times than AI can count, and is just one small example of how effective he was in spreading conservative messages via social media.

Charlie Kirk is truly irreplaceable, but may God grant his followers new boldness and articulation so that the conservative beliefs and the free exchange of ideas he braved hostile campuses to promote will not disappear from schools again. We the members of the Republican Party of Bexar County remain grateful that we were blessed by the gifts he shared, and will not let his assassination intimidate efforts to carry on the faith and conservative American values for which he fought.

Texas signs agreements with nine states to strengthen election integrity

Texas expands efforts to maintain accurate voter rolls through state-to-state data sharing

AUSTIN — Texas Secretary of State Jane Nelson announced today that Texas has entered into memorandums of understanding (MOU) with nine states to share voter registration data, strengthening efforts to prevent duplicate registrations. The agreements establish a secure and cooperative process for comparing voter registration records, providing a critical tool to detect and prevent potential voter fraud.

"These agreements are a significant step in our ongoing commitment to maintain accurate voter registration lists and upholding the integrity of our elections," said Secretary Nelson. "By working together, we are demonstrating how states can responsibly share information while protecting voter data."

The nine states Texas has an MOU with are:

- Alabama
- Arkansas
- Kansas
- Kentucky
- Louisiana
- Ohio
- South Carolina
- Virginia
- West Virginia

Texas employs multiple data sources to maintain clean voter rolls, including information from federal and state agencies, such as the Social Security Administration and the Bureau of Vital Statistics. State-to-state agreements provide an additional tool to identify duplicate voter registrations, detect instances of voting in more than one jurisdiction, and ensure voter databases remain up to date.

The MOUs outline how the two states will securely exchange voter registration data while adhering to strict confidentiality and cybersecurity protocols. The agreements also ensure that any instances of duplicate registrations or potential voter fraud identified through this process are shared with appropriate authorities for further investigation.

These MOUs serve as a model for future partnerships. Texas plans to establish similar agreements with additional states. These agreements will further enhance election security by allowing states to work together to identify cross-state duplicate registrations and prevent voting in multiple jurisdictions.

"Texans expect fair and transparent elections," Nelson added. "These agreements provide an effective framework for safeguarding our voter rolls, and we look forward to expanding this initiative with other states in the near future."

SREC Report notes, Bexar CEC Saturday, September 20, 2025

3 Matters of significance from the September 6th Quarterly meeting of the SREC, which took place in Corpus Christi:

1. Special October Meeting to Review Proposed Censures

We SREC have another special meeting called by the state party chairman on Saturday, October 14th in Austin to review censures of elected officials which have been submitted by various counties and have been determined by the SREC Resolutions Committee to meet all the criteria laid out in Rule 44 of the state party rules.

All censure measures must be passed and submitted by a county party in the official's home district. For example, the Harris County party may not submit a censure of a Bexar County state representative.

No censures came from the Republican Party of Bexar County.

During the summer the state party put out a report created by the Legislative Task Force appointed by Chairman Abraham George, and in it were listed bills officially supported by the party as promoting the legislative priorities. The report detailed actions by state representatives and senators which directly supported or opposed the passage of these bills. The actions listed in that report as opposing priority bills may be included among violations cited in censure measures we will review.

The SREC does not actually censure, it may only concur with a properly submitted censure from a county party and then impose penalties recommended in that county party's censure. The SREC is not obligated to concur nor to impose all requested penalties.

2. Resolutions

The "Resolution in Support of a Patriotic Framework for Texas Social Studies Education," which was sixth in our list of seven resolutions to consider at the meeting, was put on a fast-track in order to be put out before the State Board of Education met last week to vote on this issue relating to the upcoming 250th anniversary of our nation.

I cannot provide you with the resolutions passed because not all proposed passed, and there were amendments passed on the floor which need to be added, besides that all of them must first go through the grammar gauntlet. I can tell you among the subjects (not official titles) of proposed resolutions were:

- Support of party volunteers
- Supporting action on Iran's nuclear facilities
- Eliminating green energy subsidies and requiring uniform grid reliability standards (passed first)
- Designating the Muslim Brotherhood as a terrorist organization
- The aforementioned social studies patriotic framework
- Condemning obstruction of banning taxpayer-funded lobbying

The official language of all the resolutions which passed should eventually be found on the TexasGOP.org website, under the About tab, under the Official Documents tab, then under Resolutions.

3. 2026 Primary Ballot Propositions

At the September 6th quarterly we voted on the propositions which will appear on the spring Republican Primary ballot in Texas. First we passed the rule to limit it to ten propositions. You may remember in the last primary there were 13 on the ballot. The real purpose of these propositions is to garner enthusiasm, to turn out the vote with basic issues the majority of Republicans really care about, besides measuring the degree of support on certain issues. Sometimes this purpose gets obscured in the fray among favorite causes of members on the floor of the SREC. The subjects of the ten propositions which were initially proposed by the Resolutions Committee to the SREC body were

- Property Taxes
- Spending Caps
- Vaccination Status
- Education on Life
- Stop Sexualizing Texas Kids
- Term Limits
- Water Sale and Export
- Emergency Declarations
- Ban Democrat Chairs
- Ban Taxpayer-Funded Lobbying.

But after a spirited floor fight and many swaps, not all of these made it on the ballot. During the debates “No Sharia Law,” opposing public education for illegal immigrant children, and grid reliability were topics proposed to replace a few of those. The final resulting ten ballot propositions will hopefully be available soon—stay tuned.

They will be posted on the TexasGOP.org website, under the “Elections” tab. Right now the 2024 Propositions are there.
